Description

Data on migration (local as well as interregional and international) in Sweden and Finland during the period 1613-1618. The data concern the household/individual level, urban and rural. For each household/individual the data contain title/occupation, name, home address, and migration destination; given as parish/town, hundred, and county/country (if the data is present in the source). The data is collected from the taxation records from the second Älvsborg's ransom taxation (in the National Archives of Sweden and Finland).
